

My dear Mr. Chapman,

I learn that your house in Federal Street is closed; and I take this method, in lieu of saying the same in a conversation which I hoped to have with you, to ask you if, amid your multiplied engagements, you will ~~be~~ write for the "Standard" a notice of Mr. Estlin's "Brief Notice of Am<sup>n</sup>. Slavery, &c. &c." I wish very much that such a notice should appear, and by one who will do justice to the tract, and to the spirit & purpose of the author.

I would have, myself, prepared some sort of a notice of it, but that I thought it better, under the circumstances, of my intimate correspondence with Mr. Estlin, that some one, less biassed <sup>in the case</sup>, than I suppose I may be, should do it.

I hope therefore that you, who can do it so well, will take it in hand.

I am convinced, too, that it would be more satisfactory to the author if some more prominent and eagle-eyed Abolitionist than I can pretend to be should deal with his work. — I was very glad, for this reason, to see E. Quincy's notice <sup>of it</sup>, in a late Liberator.

I hope you are enjoying your Summer retreat from the city's noise & cares, and, with sincere respect, remain

Yours,
Samuel May Jr
